Your Skills. Your Story. Let Them Know Whoozit.

Build a stunning, mobile-first link-in-bio page that reflects your brand—without touching a single line of code. Group your links, share your work, control what's public or private, and manage your entire online presence from one powerful, easy-to-use dashboard.

* Client Need

In today's digital-first world, individuals, creators, and professionals often need a unified, elegant way to present their online presence—links to social profiles, portfolios, and projects—all in one place. Traditional “link in bio” pages are often clunky, uncustomizable, or lack privacy and branding flexibility.

* Our Solution

Agami Technologies developed Whoozit, a user-friendly, customizable link-in-bio platform that empowers users to create a polished, mobile-optimized personal profile without coding. Users can organize multiple links, showcase their skills and stories, and choose what content is public or private.

* Key Features Delivered
